

CO3/10/7/62Annbank School

Originally administered by Tarbolton School Board.
The building was erected in 1903, following an increase in the population after workers flocked to the two new collieries that had opened. The first teachers were John McArthur (born 1846 taught at Annbank Colliery Public School), and Maggie Meikle (born 1869 who also taught at Annbank Colliery Public School). The school was used in 1904 for evening continuation classes.

Records include Log Books of Annbank New Public School, as well as the Evening Continuation Class.
