Dalry Primary School incorporating records of Higher Grade, Free Church, Parish, West End, Public, Haining Side, Townend and Female Industrial Schools

The earliest record in this collection, originates from the Free Church School, Dalry in 1863. It is presumed that the school was at some point merged with a successor, and the records and pupils transferred and retained.

By 1902, there were 4 schools in existence in Dalry: Dalry Parish, Townend School, West End School, and the Female Industrial School. These schools were amalgamated on 5 May, 1902 under the name of Dalry Public School. Townend School became the Infant Department of the new school. The log book for West End School listed below therefore becomes the log book for Dalry Public School on 5 May, 1902. The Infant Department of the new school starts its own log book on 9 May, 1902.

Haining School, which was four and a half miles from Dalry, was first opened on 19 August, 1913, and was attached to Dalry Public School. From that date entries regarding this school were made in the log book of Dalry Public School. The school started its own log book in June, 1916. Haining school was closed on 28 November, 1930, and arrangements were made to convey the children to Ladylaw Bridge School, Kilbirnie by bus.

The collection also contains records of Dalry Primary School from 1963; it is assumed that this school has inherited the pupils and records of its local predecessors. Following controversial educational reorganisation by Ayr County Council, Dalry Primary School opened in August 1971, as a separate school. Dalry Primary school remains in existence, and has enjoyed new premises since August 2007.

Records of the Dalry Higher Grade School also feature in this collection. In its' early years, the Higher Grade school would have been grafted onto the Primary Department. Then, in 1971, the Primary School opened as a separate school. At this time, the Higher Grade School [referred to also as the Secondary Department, defining its interpretation as an add on to the Primary] continued to occupy the old premises, as part of the Garnock Academy complex. In 1972 Dalry High School was amalgamated with others to form Garnock Academy; pupils were transported by bus to Kilbirnie.

The records created by each school were deposited into the archive as one collection, by Dalry Primary School. As historically schools in Dalry were merged into one another, it was decided to keep all the various school records together, under the fonds of Dalry Primary School.

CO3/10/7/73/3 School Roll

The school rolls are small handwritten journals, created by the school. They record alphabetically, the names of children, and gives their date of admission and date of leaving - this can then be used to access the relevant admissions register. Length of attendance at the school is given. Siblings attending the school can be identified.

CO3/10/7/73/4 Forms

Some of these records may be closed until 2039

The collection includes different forms [for example, form 9b, form 9 H.G., form E.2., form 62(a), form 62(b), form 18 and so on], completed by the Head Teacher and passed on to such regulatory organisations as Her Majesty's Inspectors, the Scotch Education Department and the Ayrshire Education Authority. Not all schools collections have retained these records, and they provide an interesting insight into the work of the Head Teacher, statistics relating to the school such as numbers of pupils, staff details, as well as pupil names and merits. These can supplement details found in the admission registers.

CO3/10/7/73/4/1 Scotch [later Scottish] Education Department Forms

Forms completed by the Head Teacher, to be forwarded to the Scotch Education Department. From 1920, the Scotch Education Department is known as the Scottish Education Department.

CO3/10/7/73/4/1/1 Scotch Education Department Form 9b

The form includes an account of the income and expenditure of the school, attendance figures, subjects taught, lists of teachers and assistants and their qualifications and where they have studied or previously taught. The information was gathered by the Head Teacher, passed to H.M. Inspectors. The purpose of these forms is that of grant allocation.

CO3/10/7/73/4/1/8 Scotch Education Department Form 62(a) List of Scholars

This form is a list of scholars presented to His Majesty's Inspector for approval of their enrolment in Supplementary Courses or Higher Grade Departments. It is a pro forma, completed by the class teacher, signed by the Headmaster, and the School Inspector. It records name, date of birth and opinion of the Class Teacher as to the proficiency attained in the agreed areas. Where there are forms of the same date and school - this indicates that the form is recording different classes [i.e. signed by a different Class Teacher]. Also records removals to other schools and new admissions.

These records were stored in one single file, and so have been kept in order. Note then that records of Haining Street Side School appear alongside Dalry Public School. In 1918 the Head Teacher notes that Haining Side is "attached to Dalry Public".

Dalry Parent - Teacher Association

The Association was founded in 1966, as the Dalry High School Parent Teacher Association. The Association represented both the Primary and Secondary Departments of the school. However, following educational re organisation by Ayr County Council, it was decided to change the name to Dalry Parent Teacher Association in March 1972, formally done in 1974. This would reflect the Association's function as predominantly concerned with the Primary School. The Association would continue to liaise with others including Garnock Academy, which replaced the High School.
